news, views, places to stay and things to do on Dartmoor

welcome to the Dartmoor newsletter.

This month find out about great places you can stay on a budget, special offers galore, the Contemporary Craft Fair, a night time trek, and one of the UK's biggest cycle events, as well as an insight into why we love Dartmoor...

Need a break on a budget?

The weather is balmy and Dartmoor is awash with colour at this time of year. Take advantage of some of the great B&Bs that offer picture postcard accommodation at a price that is affordable. The LongHouse Bed & Breakfast is a fifteenth century property tucked away in secluded gardens. Rooms are cosy and full of character, and there is a number of shops and excellent eateries nearby, as well as the open moorland on the doorstep. Prices start from £27.50 per person per night, including a hearty breakfast. Perfect for a weekend away. Click here for more details and to book...

Looking for a hideaway?

Located on the Southern slopes of Dartmoor National Park and within three acres of grounds, Bramblemoor Cottage is a hideaway not to be missed. Surrounded by nature, badgers and deer, and with the river Webburn at the bottom of the valley, Bramblemoor is run with relaxation in mind. Take a walk out onto the moor, enjoy the sunshine in the peaceful garden or cosy up in the comfort of the cottage. Bramblemoor Cottage (above) is offering a 10% discount for those looking to take a last minute break and stay in the next few weeks. Click here for more details and to book...

Take in the art scene at the Contemporary Craft Fair

Friday 11 – Sunday 13 June 2010, Mill Marsh Park, Bovey Tracey, Dartmoor

The Contemporary Craft Fair attracts more than 165 of the finest talents, and thousands of visitors. Choose from designers, jewellers, interiors, fashion, ceramics, woodcraft and much more. There are workshops, live music, food, lectures, children's entertainment and demonstrations. Pick up some unique gifts or something for yourself, and take the children along to learn new skills. For more information about the Contemporary Craft Fair, click here

Pack a picnic and head for Dartmoor

What could signify the start of the summer more than a picnic? The days are warm and the sun is shining (most of the time!), so why not pack a picnic or just some sandwiches and a bottle of bubbly, and head for the hills of Dartmoor. The only problem is where do you go? Where are the most spectacular views or the best facilities? Well, we can help you out; click here to take a look at our best recommended picnic spots on Dartmoor. And enjoy!
